SEMINARY CLASSES BEGIN FALL SEMESTER

The expansion of the seminary is rapidly progressing. The new second floor has a partial roof allowing the growing student body more classroom space they desperately need this semester. Pictured above with the construction team is one of four classes of students. Some live within driving distance, some live on campus.

Construction workers are pouring more of the roof in the coming months but so much more is needed. Doors, windows, flooring, plumbing and electrical fixtures. Funding to complete the building still needs to be raised. Partners, is your church willing to invest to complete the seminary? Prayerfully consider asking them, thank you!

We are training Christ-following pastors and supporting them with tools they can leverage to source income locally for ministry and meeting needs.
