What does the culmination of a year of partnership development look like?

How about with boxes, packing tape, bubble wrap—and that strangely chaotic look that comes with packing? (I try to keep that look out of my eyes!)

How about with a long list of loose ends to tie up, good-byes to say, and a date set to move into ministry? I think that pretty much sums it up!

Plans have been made, the boxes are packed and ready to ship, and a moving date has been set. Even our hardy New York winter is lingering around to give me a good sendoff. The countdown is on!

In less than a week, I'll be saying good-bye to New York, to wonderful friends and family, and to great memories—and embarking on a journey into a new chapter in God's plan for my life.

I should arrive at New Tribes Mission's headquarters in Sanford, Florida on April 1st—and really, that's not an April Fool's Day joke! (Please take note of the new mailing address in the left column.)

Thank you for your prayers as I wrap up last minute details on this end and for safety during the move. Thank you for praying for the transitions to a new location and a new ministry—and as an empty-nester for the first time! I look forward to writing you from the other end of the move.

Because He Lives,

Rosie Cochran

New Tribes Mission

Sanford, FL 32771

Dear Friends of Rosie,

My name is Macon Hare, and I'm the Director of Communications at New Tribes Mission. As U.S. based missionaries for NTM for over 43 years, my wife and I work to mobilize missionaries to bring the Gospel to some of the most isolated and unreached places on earth.

Bridging the Gap Between the Mission Field and the Local Church

New Tribes Mission is made up of more than 3,000 missionaries serving around the world. These men and women work in tribal cultures bringing God's Word to those who don't yet know the saving name of Christ. Our missionaries are Planting Churches in 260 distinct tribal groups, plan on entering 17 new language groups in the next year and working on 100 different Bible translations. We see tribes reached with the Gospel every 45 days. But all this wouldn't be possible without NTM's home team staff serving behind the scenes as the vital connection between the unreached in the mission field and believers in the local church.

Impact the Lost World By Supporting Rosie Cochran as a U.S. Based Missionary

In light of the tremendous opportunity we have to reach these remote people groups with the hope of the Gospel, Rosie has been raising support to join NTM staff as a member of the Communications Department. In this role, she will serve the ministry by recruiting and equipping missionaries, generating awareness regarding the needs of lost world, and raising funds to provide support for the mission field. But she can't do it alone. She needs the support of like-minded believers praying and giving financially to allow her to serve the Lord in full-time mission work. We're thankful she's willing to come at this time with minimal support to fill our immediate need, though recognize she will need to see these levels increased in the year to come.

NTM USA: The Essential Link

The stateside missionaries serving at NTM USA function as a bridge between the mission field and believers in the local church. Rosie will play a pivotal role in bringing the good news to those living without the grace and peace that comes from a saving relationship with Christ.

Your Support Helps Fulfill the Great Commission

While we are making great strides in advancing the Lord's work, there is still much to be accomplished. Of the world's 6,500 people groups, 2,500 are still without a church or Christian witness to bring the Gospel to them. It is in these remote places that New Tribes Mission works.

You can be a part of reaching these hidden tribal people by supporting Rosie Cochran.

Join Rosie's Support Team and Reach Remote Tribal People

Just as doctors need medical supplies to treat the sick and injured, NTM home team staff need the support of believers like you in order to enable the Gospel to go out to those living in darkness.

When you become a part of Rosie's support team you are helping fulfill the Great Commission. Though you may never travel to distant jungles or far off islands to work with tribal peoples, your monthly support allows the Gospel to continue to go forth into the unreached places of the earth.

How You Can Give

Using the enclosed gift form and return envelope, you can give a monthly, annual, or one-time gift to support Rosie's work at NTM.
