

I Will Never Forget This Lady — I look at the picture of her just about every morning. What a hard harsh life she has lived. The look on her face and her eyes are haunting. I remember thinking, as we left her remote village, she will probably never hear the Gospel in her lifetime. So Sad. There are millions of people like her; different look, different language, different culture - but alike in that they have never heard the Gospel. Many live in locations that are almost impossible to minister. People like her are our goal. And shouldn't they be? Please keep this photo around for a while. Look at the photo of this lady. Pray like you have never prayed before, for her and the people like her. Pray that God will raise up more missionary laborers who will dedicate their life to reach the unreachable. Thank you for your partnership.
