"God is Love" - Invitation to Together
December 2021

BUILDING SPIRITUAL MOVEMENTS EVERYWHERE SO THAT EVERYONE KNOWS SOMEONE WHO TRULY FOLLOWS JESUS

How can it be that 2021 is coming to an end in just a few weeks? There are so many things that are running through my head and my heart now and over the last two years, but one thing continues to ring over and over and it's this:

And if not... He is still good, Oh glory, He is still God.

In the good, the bad, and the ugly. Whatever our if not's might be, He is still good and He is still God. It's such a simple thing but a truth that seems easier to say than to truly believe. This is what I've been reminding myself and others of especially in this season. Lately I've found myself processing my own health, unexpected loss and death of a loved one, the stories of students I meet, and so much more. Last Sunday a friend of mine preached on holding onto hope in the waiting and what it looks like to trust God in the process while holding onto His promises. I let out a good cry holding both of those truths and remembering His goodness through it all. I pray that wherever you're finding yourself, in your if nots, you would hold onto the promise that He is still good.

One of the things that I've leaned into most in this last season is the power of prayer. To pray, to intercede, and to invite others to pray with me. I wanted to ask you to join me in praying for a few things and boldly ask you to come alongside me as we trust God together and hold onto His promises in the now, and not yet. If you haven't been receiving my monthly updates, check out www.ministryupdates.org/jamie_lam to read some stories from past updates.

Here are some ways I'd love to invite you to join me this season...

- Pray for our Fast Break conference Dec 17-20. I'll be emceeding and speaking Saturday morning. Pray that students would encounter Jesus and find hope in Him. Pray for a move of the Holy Spirit! We'll be gathering with the San Diego high school teams! Conference is a time where students really experience life change.
- Pray for West Coast Epic Conference Jan 14-17. I'm directing conference and still passionate about reaching college students with the Good News. I love getting to dream and execute something like this knowing that whatever comes from it will be bigger and greater than I could ever think or imagine! If you're in the area, please email me if you'd like to come! We'll be in Irvine right by SNA.
- Continue to pray for ministry and the lives of our high school students. Pray that starting January, we'll be able to get on ALL our campuses! We've seen a lot of fruit and the harvest is plentiful. Pray for faithfulness to keep going!
- HEALTH UPDATE: Pray for continual healing. I had a bacterial infection and ulcers which resulted in more medication, doctor appointments, and a change in chemo medication. Been adjusting well and continuing to process and trust God in the middle of this leukemia journey.
- Pray for this season of support raising. I am trusting the Lord for a one time of $8000 and $1000 more monthly support. Would you pray about giving in this season. Thank you in advance for your prayers, generosity, faithfulness ALL these years and the impact you are making not only in my life but the lives of students everywhere!
