

From my Heart...

We planted a garden at work. A teeny tiny garden that has already began to push the railroad tie boundaries. Already I have gotten to taste the crisp cool cucumber, sauté some vibrant zucchini, and eat 1/3 of the only ripe and juicy cherry tomato. As my co-farmer, Jackie, and I were bringing in the days crops and dividing them, Jackie said "We better start spreading the produce because I've noticed that if you don't share the love it tends to rot on your counter." WISDOM! I began to think about all the sweet discipleship and wisdom the Lord continually pours all over my life, especially in this past season. I suddenly understood that if I do not continually squeeze His gracious goodness all over others then it too will become a rotten tomato sitting on the counter of my heart. When we conceal the Lord's glory that undeservingly flows through us, it fails to serve its very purpose.

This week a team of interns from Convoy of Hope came out for some training in preparation for their trip to Haiti. The team hungered for change in their lives so that they may change others lives. I had the opportunity to pour out the wisdom and glory the Lord had lavished on me and I was reminded of the nourishment that it brings to all.

Botswana

After several months of confusion and much prayer, the Lord has revealed some new direction. We had an eager and passionate team for the deaf outreach, but with the violence and struggle continuing in Mali we had nowhere to go. Through the missionary grapevine, we heard that several people had been praying for the Lord to raise up a team to go and work with the deaf of Botswana. The deaf community in Botswana has begun to see glimpses of the Gospel, but the language and cultural barriers limited the church sharing the gospel among this unreached population. We will have the opportunity to work with the local churches in three different regions of Botswana. I praise the Lord for His clear path and ask that you would join me in prayer for this upcoming outreach

Missions Exposure

Recently the Lord has been opening doors for a unique "missions exposure" ministry. When I started work here, I quickly realized that the majority of local churches were simply uninformed about the plight of the unreached. In the past few months, we have been contacted by 3 local churches who desire to instill a heart for missions into their youth. We have the unique opportunity to use our tribal village and prayer trail to give the students a hands-on grasp of a global situation. We talk about people who have never heard the gospel, the suffrage of poverty and how Christ is the only answer for a broken world. Hopedale Baptist Church, Emmaus Church, and Northpoint Church are all bringing the next generation out so that they may be aware of the situation and begin to invest in the final frontiers.

Awareness

According to the CIA World Factbook, 25% of the population of Botswana is HIV positive. HIV and Aids has affected southern Africa since the 80's. Due to lack of resources and education on the disease, it continues to spread throughout region leaving sickness and orphans in its wake. Please pray for wisdom and innovation to end this epidemic.
