

His Heart His Hands His Story
The Deaf Will Hear!

"Hear ye deaf, and look, ye blind, that you may see!" Is. 42:18

These words were penned years ago by the prophet Isaiah, as the Spirit of God moved and spoke through him with this prophetic promise, even for today!

School to the Nations is now moving into some new harvest fields among the deaf in West Africa. Because of meningitis and other diseases, there is a very large population of deaf people in this region of the world, and they are classified as an "Unreached People Group." Worldwide, there are an estimated 33.5 million deaf. It is a staggering thought that we can be a part of bringing the gospel of Jesus Christ to some of these people with such a critical need.

The challenge of cross-cultural mission work in a 99% Islamic country, with a 70% and higher illiteracy rate is daunting. Coupled with that is the task of communicating the precious message of Jesus and His great love to people who are deaf. From a human standpoint, this would seem an impossibility, but not for the Spirit of God and workers who are willing, by faith, to face this enormous challenge of reaching the deaf of Mali, West Africa!

Our project is in its early infancy, and our assignment is to partner with a local church, Ridgecrest Baptist in Springfield, MO, to help them adopt the deaf of Mali, cross-culturally train their deaf ministry leaders along with the deaf from their church, and then mobilize them to this unreached people group. Think of it—the deaf leading the deaf to Jesus!

DISCIPLESHIP PROFILE

"Faith-Comes-By-Hearing" Players

Our "Flood the Desert" Africa team, departing after Christmas this year to work among the still classified "Fulanke" Unreached People Group, is sponsoring a special discipleship project.

We need Ministry Partners to prayerfully consider investing the Word of God into these tribal people with a special tool called a "Faith Player."

Romans 10:17(NAS) states: "So faith comes by hearing, and hearing by the Word of Christ."

The Fulanke tribal people have an illiteracy rate of well over 70% and Bibles in their language are scarce. Their belief system is a mix of Folk Islam (watered-down Islam) and animism (the worship of ancestors, trees, rocks, etc.). The Fulanke are steeped in a fear-based culture.

These solar-powered, hand-cranked, durable Faith Players have the New Testament recorded on them in the Fulanke's own Bambara language. They can sit around the campfire with as many as 50 or more people at a time and hear the Living Word of God. This is a precious gift!

We are asking our Ministry Partners to prayerfully consider purchasing one or more of these players for us to take to the field in December. The cost of the players is $100.00 ea. 100% of this amount all goes for the player, there are no hidden costs.

If you would like to donate to this project, you may do so online by going to our website home page at the link below. Just click the Razoo button on the left side and go to the Faith Players profile.

Or you may also send a check to our address with a note that designates your gift.

Thank you so much for your commitment to furthering the gospel to those who are desperately waiting to hear!

From My Heart...

I will open my mouth in parables, I will utter hidden things, things from old-what we have heard and known... We will not hide them from their children; we will tell the next generation the praiseworthy deeds of the Lord - His power and the wonders he has done. Psalms 78:2-4

I have officially been in ministry for over a month. In that small time I have felt passionate and overwhelmed, joyful and insufficient, encouraged and frustrated, unlovely and very loved. Regardless of my feeling on any given day I praise Him always for His perfect timing and grace. I wake up every morning excited for the day and for the sweet truths and mercies of the Lord.

In my last month here I have had the privilege of training 3 teams that are going to work amongst the harvest. When I came to each training I was filled with doubt and unsure of the message I would share. I knew the Lord had entrusted sweet knowledge to me and that His biblical truths reign true for today's hurting world, but I taught unsure of the message's impact. I sought the Lord for courage and encouragement and he brought me back to truth. Psalms 78:2-4 reminds me that sharing the story of our King, and the beautiful love He poured out, never returns void. I am humbled as I realize the Lord could move and teach through my young lips. With each training and with each day of ministry, I am learning to lean into His word and pour it out over every facet of my life. My prayer is that the sweet truth of the Lord would ooze out of all my broken places onto this generation.

Camp News...

Kelunka means listen in the South Indian language of Tamil. But what does it mean to truly listen? As bold followers answer the call to go and work in the harvest, we face the danger of self-confidence. In the past and still today proud hearts flounce into foreign lands as a beacon of all that is worthy and true. We cease listening and move on our own strength and agenda. At Kelunka Training Village we strive to harness the power of intentional listening to hear our team, the natives we will meet and most importantly the authentic beacon of all that is worthy and true.

During the last month we have had three teams come out to tune their ears in our Kelunka Training Village. School to the Nations' Flood the Desert team and Hillcrest Baptist came out and focused on listening in order to effectively share the divine storybook. Later in the month Convoy of Hope, a local Christian relief organization, camped out with 8 interns headed for Haiti. They spent time in the village, and on the ropes course, learning to listen to their team and the deep needs of the Haitian people. Visit www.schooltothenations.com to learn more about the events and happenings of Kelunka.

There are still 6,508 unreached people groups in the world. Over 2 billion people who have never heard the name Jesus. Only 0.1% of missionaries work among the unreached people groups. The Word is clear that our mission is to reach the ends of the Earth. The kingdom will only be established when every tribe, every tongue and every nation has had the opportunity to hear the gospel. Psalms 86:9 promises that all nations will worship and glorify the Lord, therefore our God desires great revival and harvesters for the field.
