

The Arrival

As your missionaries we are so thankful to you for your giving and fruits of labor of prayer for us here in Mindanao. Truly I would always say “we are seeing the prayers being manifested to us wherever we are in the field “We have been so privileged and blessed by your generosity. It’s been short refreshment at the same time to be home and see the brethren in the ministries of our local sending church and have some opportunities to assist my pastor in bible studies. Our dear daughter being dedicated. It’s” B2B” for us here in the harvest now which means Back 2 Basics now and a lot to get adjusted to again which brings us to great challenges ahead in our assignments as his soldiers. All of our paper works has finally been completed for our purpose home as well .

A thankful greeting from Mindanao the city of Cagayan De Oro city . We have finally arrived. Our first destination was Hong Kong, the journey of East Asia which would be my second time here but first time for my wife and children. We had a chance to visit one of the missionaries who our local church supports for many years and to visit some places there. I don’t think we could stay there very long because it’s very expensive. Good to be in the Philippines where everything is half the cost. We even stayed in the airport for the night because of the bookings of hotels and it was so hard to get a place, so we put up our evangelistic banner and just rested a little before our flight to Manila. Then straight to Mindanao. We cannot thank God for his protection and provision anyway throughout. AI- Ready Getting back these past weeks was indeed an adjustment for us, me having a stomach virus, asking the Lord is it time to go home yet (laughing) definitely rough to have that kind of sickness but an old saying “this too shall pass”. Immediately as the second day being home I was approached by my staff letting me know that we have our once a month military outreach and if I have not gone I would have to wait until next month even though the jet-lag and other things happening at once there is nothing more exciting than to give twenty bibles to these men especially in their own native tongue and teach them the words of Life. We thank the Lord for some of our translator friends in the south of Mindanao and B.E.A.M.S for those who don’t know or aren’t familiar with them it stands for Bible Education and Missionary service who distributes to us these bibles from Gulfport Mississippi . www.Beams.org . We are praying also to launch our organization called C.O.M.E(Commission of Mindanao Evangelists) ministries with are partnering bible school training as S.O.B.E (school of Biblical Evangelism.) we are thankful for the vision that the Lord is giving to us here for the Cagayanon peoples . Until then.
