SERVING WITH CRU IN SOUTHEAST OHIO

August 28, 2016

“The harvest is plentiful - and the Lord has conveniently placed it in long, straight lines!”

This year, just like in years past, we spent the first two days of the school year passing out “60 Second Questionnaires” among the students as they waited in line outside the three dining halls on OU’s campus.

Clay hands out questionnaires at the Involvement Fair with his disciple, Jared.

These questionnaires are designed to quickly help us find the students on campus who are either already Christians, or are the most open to the gospel. We then call and invite each one of these students to personally meet with us so we can share more about Cru, and more importantly, so we can share the gospel with them.

One of these students, whom we’ll call Cody, agreed to meet with Clay and a Cru student leader named Erik. They sat outside the (unfortunately full) campus coffee shop in the heat, as Clay gently asked about his spiritual background. Cody said he had been raised in the church, but left as a teen when he got fed up with what he described as “stereotypical Christianity.” As they talked further, it was clear that despite his background, Cody’s heart was open.

“Before [I left the church] I had an easy time trusting people. I want to trust people again, and I want to trust God.” Cody admitted.

Clay and Erik were able to share the gospel with Cody. He wasn’t ready to trust Christ yet, but agreed to continue coming to Bible study and our weekly meeting, and continuing to consider trusting his life to Christ.

We praise God for the hundreds of students like Cody who have open and ready hearts, just waiting for someone to share the gospel with them.

‘Til The Whole World Knows,
Clay + Emily

Long dining hall lines, having fun while handing out pizza at our first Bible study, and a full house for our first weekly gathering!
