

When The Nations Come To You...

A story that has recently been unfolding that puts us in awe of God is how He has been working in and through Jill. We have shared about Jill before and explained how she is interning with us part time while she is training for this summer's Olympics in Rio. (Please keep praying for her training!)

A few months ago, Kyle was leading Jill in some of her ministry training on campus. They bumped into Roshan, a Mizzou grad student from Nepal. He was very spiritually open and asking lots of questions, so they set up a follow-up meeting. It was incredible for Kyle to watch God use the experiences He has given Jill as a Religious studies major to care for Roshan and understand his Hindu background in that meeting. Through their conversation, Jill had the opportunity to share with Roshan how to Know God Personally! Roshan placed his trust in Jesus that day, giving Jill the first opportunity she had ever had in leading someone to faith. Kyle & Jill have continued meeting Roshan over the past few weeks. He was very excited when they shared The Jesus Film app for his phone and he heard the Gospel in his native language.

Roshan also joined our family for Christmas Eve service. It was his first time ever being in a Christian church. It was so humbling and amazing watching AJ explain the Christmas story to Roshan (using his Sunday school Nativity stickers) as we waited for church to begin. This was his first encounter with the story of how Jesus came to earth for him and us at Christmas. Words can't really express what it was like watching them stand beside each other holding candles during the service!

Praise God with us for Roshan's new life in Christ and for Jill's growth in taking bold steps of faith to depend on God!

Prayer Praises:

- For God meeting our recent financial needs... He is faithful!
- We're feeling more deeply connected through our local church

Prayer Requests:

- For God to impact student's hearts and transform lives at our regional winter retreat Jan 29-31
- That God will build the group of students for this summer's East Asia Project and that we will have wisdom as we recruit and plan

CELEBRATE WITH US!!

Hi Everyone! This is Jayne writing. I just wanted to take a minute and invite you into a place that we are praising God as a family, on a more personal front. This past year, Kyle has been depending on the Lord in a really intense way as he has been fighting to make healthier choices and also lose some weight. It has been incredible to watch Kyle grow in his faith and experience deeper understanding of God's grace as well as faithfulness in this process. There have been so many different lessons that impact our family and our ministry along the way. Too many to include right here, but we wanted you to get to celebrate God at work with us and give Him the glory as He has met Kyle in the journey of losing over 100 pounds in the past year! The kids and I are always blessed by Kyle's leadership of our family, but we are especially proud of Him trusting God and being such a great example to us in this!
