

Nich & Tricia Beebee | July 2015 | Epic Movement  a ministry of CRU

Summer time. Wherever we are, this season invokes so much nostalgia, but for a various of reasons. When I (Nich) was young it meant Beebee family reunions in Iowa, Kentucky and Wisconsin, and staying up late with the cousins; it meant freedom from homework and endless days in the pool. Although those memories remain, over the past decade Tricia and I both have gathered different memories in a different part of the world.

Usually this time of year, if we had served in Hawaii or San Francisco, we would have turned the Mission Project over to the students and headed out to Fort Collins, Colorado for our biennial Conference with Cru with nearly 6,000 other staff. If we were serving internationally we'd be hitting our stride, having already met dozens of students and had the opportunity to share the goods news of Jesus and the faith we have in him. Currently, in the city where we've called home for the past year, there is a team of 5 staff and 12 students who are sowing broadly in hopes that Jesus' words of life will fall on good soil and take root, so that we may return at the end of the summer to a bountiful harvest! Please pray for this Summer Team, that their eyes would be opened to what the Lord of the Harvest sees!

Ranot, who is Tibetan & his classmates at military training this summer.

Just as we've needed to trust God that He will take care of our apartment, provide for the Summer Team and provide community and encouragement for the 7 students who placed their trust in Jesus this past year, we've also needed to trust Him with our summer here in the States as we focus on raise funds for our second year in East Asia. Its amazing what God can orchestrate!

Call or text - we'd love to hear from you!

God has blessed us with housing and cars for the exact dates we are back. He has allowed us to connect with friends and family over delicious meals, worship and pray alongside people from our home churches, and breathe the fresh mountain air as we slept under the stars at family-friend's cabin in the Sierras. It's been busy sharing with others about our ministry and lives in East Asia but also relaxing at times to re-connect with our loved ones. We are in awe at how the Lord has already provided 30% of our $30,028 financial goal!

Pray with as we trust Him for the remaining 70% before we fly out on August 19th.

Thank you for continuing on in this journey with us as we head down to Southern California for the duration of our summer, preparing to return for our second year and trusting God as we reach students for Christ in East Asia.

Blessings,

NICH & Tricia
