NICH & TRICIA BEEBEE | cru⁺ & the EPIC MOVEMENT

Merry Christmas everyone! How was your Thanksgiving? Are you delving into the new Christmas season? We love everything about this time of year – we've been playing holiday music all November long and we're thinking of getting our first tree. We are especially trying to enjoy the quietness and freedom before little baby Beebee comes in the spring!

We're really thankful for all God has done this past year in bonding us as a newly married couple, providing for us through faithful ministry partners (like you!) who pray and give to the ministry He's called us to, deepening our relationships with family and now being entrusted to bring up a little girl into this world. Thank you for partnering alongside us through this year. We feel encouraged and we know life would be very different without you in our lives. Here are some of our personal highlights from this year:

Tricia: "I'm amazed how smooth the transition from moving to Hawaii and married life has been. I definitely miss Hawaii but I have been fully enjoying the ministry at UC Irvine. I disciple two of the main leaders, Adeline and Carrie, and it's been a blessing to see them grow in their faith. My relationship with Nich has gotten stronger as we're embracing conflict in a healthy way, and I'm learning how to best support and empower him as I've been taking more physical rest breaks with the pregnancy. God has been showing me how to invest my time well and not spread myself too thin. My favorite memories are of Nich and I cooking together with friends, having family visit, going to the zoo for our anniversary and finding out that we were expecting in June! I'm nervous yet thrilled to meet our baby!"

Nich: "So much has happened in just one year of our lives, and it's fun to sort through pictures and thank God for his abundant blessings. Recently I've been dwelling upon the idea of what it looks like to truly follow Jesus, and reveal God through my life. As I think about his humility, sacrificial love, creativity and power - I pray that as a follower of Christ, as a husband and soon-to-be father, I will continue to bear God's image in each of these roles. Highlights of this year have been nurturing a balcony garden and cooking alongside Tricia; free-diving with students and coming home with fish, lobster and scallops; listening to students tell their stories for the very first time and join with them in mourning and laughing; and finally dream with Tricia as we trust God for our growing family."

Since our lives are changing with a baby coming in March, we would love your prayers as we desire to honor God through the way we parent and our marriage. Other than prayer, our most glaring need would be the added finances to have this little one in our lives. Thankfully the Lord provided the initial monthly financial goal we needed to be back on campus.

However, as we anticipate extra expenses with a baby, would you prayerfully consider increasing your monthly giving or begin giving monthly to the ministry and life God has called us to? Any special holiday gift that you would like to give would go towards hospital expenses not covered by our insurance, diapers, etc. We appreciate you thinking of us and if you decide to give, please use the enclosed slip and envelope by Christmas Day.

We are so thankful for your partnership in changing students' lives and ultimately the world through Jesus. God continues to use you mightily in our lives, as well as the lives of our future leaders in Southern California and around the world.

Blessings,

NICH & Tricia
