Ministry Update

Second trade school

Ministry partners of THM have invested into another trade school in the Central region of the country.

Pastor Odimond (upper right hand corner) and his team have been burdened with the desire to educate the youth in the churches in this region with a trade.

Sewing supplies sent down last month will be shared between the two schools. Trades such as plumbing, electrical and carpentry are taught.

Dean Nehemie

Praise God from whom all blessings flow.

As we informed our partners months ago for the need of a motorcycle and funds to pay tuition for Nehemie to obtain his PhD, we rejoice in informing you that the first year of his tuition has just been paid.

Last month we sent funds for the motorcycle, however in Haiti banks do not allow more than $50 dollars each day to be withdrawn.

It will take some time to buy a motorcycle.

Church partners rock

THM has wonderful church partners, and Indianola Community Church is one of them.

They invited me to speak at their missions conference and I had the honor of bragging about our Heavenly Father and the works he is doing in and through THM.

Thank you Steph and Steve for your hospitality and friendship.

Preparations Ramp Up for Global Security Force to Quell Haitian Violence

By David C. Adams and Frances Robles New York Times
David C. Adams and Frances Robles reported from Florida. May 7, 2024

U.S. military planes filled with civilian contractors and supplies have begun landing in Haiti, paving the way for a seven-nation security mission, led by Kenya, to deploy to the troubled Caribbean nation in the coming weeks, American officials say.

Several military flights, including at least seven from Charleston Air Force Base in South Carolina, have landed at Toussaint Louverture International Airport in Port-au-Prince, the capital, in the past week, according to the U.S. Southern Command.

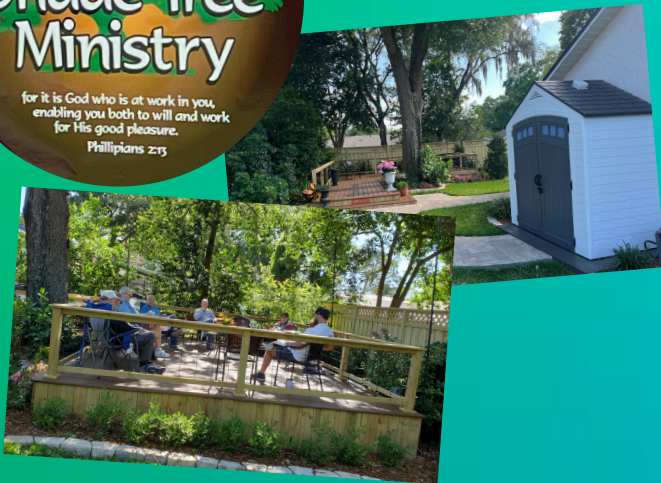

“The deployment of the multinational security support mission in Haiti is urgent, and we’re doing all we can to advance that goal,” Brian A. Nichols, assistant secretary of state for Western Hemisphere affairs, told reporters last week. “Every day that goes by is a lost opportunity to provide greater security for the Haitian people. And that’s why we’re doing everything we can, along with our Kenyan partners to advance that.”

Overseas & Home - Ministry Happens

This month the men God called to gather under the shade tree for ministry was wonderful. We explored the beatitudes led by a retired (sorry,,, reassigned) Pastor and dove into a couple of Psalms.

The “after hours” as we call it, is that time after; prayer, worship in song, study God’s word and have a bit to eat. After hours lasts one to three hours for those with time to dive deeper into fellowship and encourage one another to keep fighting the good fight however that presents itself in each man life.

Thank you for all your support and prayers. We can't do this without YOU!
