► Please pray that I would enjoy the support raising process and that God would bring in my support in time for me to move in December.

► Please pray that the Lord would increasingly burden my heart for the lost students in St. Louis.

Enjoying Jesus

Things are finally cooling off here in Houston, and I pray that you are enjoying life as I am. This past month I have loved being able to connect with old and new friends. I also had the incredible joy and privilege of being the best man in the wedding of two good friends, Rick and Abbie. It was such a beautiful night in every way!

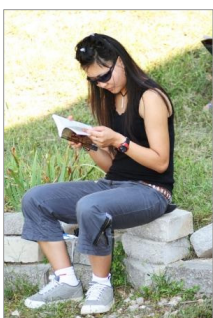

As I raise support and study in preparation for my move into career ministry, I've been encouraged as the Lord teaches me through His Word. Study of 1 Corinthians 9 has taught me that we definitely have certain rights as believers, but the Lord is honored when we give them up so that we might "win more of them" to Christ. A deep look at the Sermon on the Mount has been challenging me profoundly in the ways I view myself in Christ and our roles in the world as followers of Him.

I take great comfort in knowing that God has determined the times and places in which we live. Psalm 145 explains, "The eyes of all look to you, and you give them their food in due season." As I continue raising support full time, I know that the Lord already has in mind what He is going to do. I trust that He will bring in my financial support in "due season."

Please join me in praying that I will be able to make the move to St. Louis sometime in early December so that I will be set up in time for the spring semester. I look forward to telling you how the Lord works faithfully this month!

Meet Me in St. Louis Changed lives in Missouri & Japan

It fills me with joy to be able to tell you that the current team in Japan has seen four students (Nao, Hiroko, Li Whey, Mari) recently pray to receive Christ! In many ways my heart is still with them over there. Please pray those students would not be swayed by rocky soil in Japan but that they would be filled with the Spirit so that they might be equipped to do all the good things our Lord has set them apart to do.

Things are rockin' along in St. Louis too! At the Missouri Fall Getaway last month they saw over 50 international students from 20 different countries join them! Pictured here is one of those students reading her new Bible during a Quiet Time set aside on Saturday morning! I can not wait to get back to St. Louis to join the effort in reaching the internationals there for Christ!
