Lots of conversations. Lots of prayer.

“Did you know that the Bible has a lot to say on that?” I asked Anthony. I met Anthony on campus and he was wearing a hockey jersey in San Antonio. (So I obviously had to talk with him.) Anthony was going through, and had gone through, just about every rough thing life could throw at him and recently was making some really bad life decisions. It was obvious that he needed Jesus and to know how to make solid, Biblical decisions. As we chatted I kept thinking how the Bible speaks directly about a life well-lived. And when we make Biblical decisions we tend to avoid negative consequences in our lives. As we talked it was obvious Anthony was hurting. He gave me his number and said he was interested in studying Scripture together.

Please pray that Anthony would take the next step and get involved in the study or a local church I pointed him toward. The reason I share about Anthony is that over the past few weeks I’ve had many conversations very similar to the one I had with Anthony. Lots of pain, lots of isolation, lots of anxiety in the lives of students on campus. And we get to offer real hope.

Thanks for being a part of this ministry. Without you we could be doing what we do and we wouldn’t be having these conversations. We are grateful for you! (Picture above is of Northeast Lakeview campus.)

We have a teenager! So far so good. Lol But these teen years bring unique opportunities and unique challenges. As we enter in to this next season we’ve enjoyed a couple resources that we wanted to share. DeAnn is really enjoying a book titled, “Age of Opportunity” by Paul David Tripp. And I just went through a Family Life resource called Passport2Purity with Elijah (Not a huge fan of the name but it was a really great study.) If you would like more info on these drop us an email! And if you have things you’d recommend that were helpful for you, your teenager, and their walk with the Lord we’d love to hear! Please shoot me an email as well! We would appreciate it!

Prayer Requests:

1. I have been spending time on two community colleges just talking with students about Jesus. (This is where I met Anthony above.) Please pray for open hearts to the gospel and for Bible studies to start.
2. One of the main guys I’ve been working with on the basketball team, who I’ve mentioned before, is probably transferring schools and will not be involved anymore. Would you pray that he would find a place that would help him in his growth toward Jesus? He is very young in his faith still.
3. Finally, would you pray for a small group to start at UTSA this semester. I would love to have multiple teams represented. (On left: stopping by basketball practice.)
