Last year I said I wouldn't do it again but somehow I ended up driving across country to get students to our Winter Conference. I realized that the conference was worth the drive if it meant more students connecting with the Lord. So it was another 19 driving hours out to California. We had four mini vans driving in a caravan. And it was worth it. Here are some of the things students said about the conference:

Rooted in Christ. But you are planted there for a reason. God entrusted us to bring the gospel to those that need it. -Josh C

It's not about how you feel... It's about recognizing God's love for you. And when you recognize that everything else falls into place. -Aime

Don't make excuses. Depend on God. He will help you get through. -Abby

Learning about Muslims gave me more confidence to go out and share my faith. Knowing that you always have Christ with you. -Josh G

God worked in our students lives but also in the lives of the community. While there we partnered with a church to outreach to a neighborhood. One group of students went into a house where ten people lived. The mom was home and they shared the Gospel with her. When they got done she said, "I want the church to come back and share the gospel with the rest of my family." All in all that was one of the coolest partnership outreaches I've been a part of. Pray with us that lasting fruit would be harvested by the church! We desire to see our students reach out like this here as well. Please pray for that also!

Prayer requests: This month we are focusing on prayer and dependence on the Lord. We've planned four prayer walks on campuses around town each week. Some of the things we are praying that you can join us in are: Praying for five students to help reach their campus on each campus we are not currently on. Praying that our students would walk with God well and would have His heart for the lost on campus. Praying that our students, when they walk on campus would have "eyes to see, a heart that cares, and a spirit that dares." Praying for lost students to know Jesus!!!
