

MERRY CHRISTMAS

THE HOLLIDAY FAMILY:
DOUG & JENNIFER
MARISA, JACLYN, EMMA, MARY-FAITH
EDLINE & EDITHE

✧ Good News ✧

On that first Christmas, the angels brought good news: A Savior had been born. The privilege the angels had that first Christmas is now ours this Christmas. We have good news. A Savior lives. Salvation is ours through the forgiveness of our sins.

God has richly blessed us with so much, but of all that we've been given, nothing is more precious than the gift of the Savior himself! Generosity is the sharing of something precious of ours for the benefit of another. What greater benefit could be offered than the forgiveness of sins and the gift of Eternal Life? Nothing is more precious! What a joy to be able to share the message of God's gift with young people across the US and around the world. And what a joy to see our own children share in our enthusiasm as they eagerly offer the gift of the Savior to friends!

Holliday Happenings...

Marisa, an 8th grader, saved up, babysat, did extra chores and used birthday money to fulfill one of her dreams... a Nikkon D5000 camera. Photography is her new favorite hobby (and she's quite good at it), along with working diligently at school, yearbook, running track & cross country, and connecting with friends on Facebook.

Jaclyn, in 6th grade this year, is in drama & chorus at school and will take guitar next semester. She loves music, writes her own songs and loves to draw and be creative. Jaclyn is an excellent student, loves to hang out with her friends at youth group, and will join her big sister in track & cross country.

Emma, in 4th grade, recently went away with Jennifer for her "turning 10" weekend away with Mommy. Staying at a Disney hotel and spending a day at the Magic Kingdom was such a thrill, Emma asked if they could do it again when she turned 20 :-). Emma loves school, even playing school, and can often be found running around outside, riding her scooter or jumping on the trampoline.

Mary-Faith is a 2nd grader this year. She played her first season of soccer, joining her cousin Ellie's team, and loved being a defender. Mary-Faith loves to read, loves to write her own stories, loves to play Lego Indiana Jones on the Wii (along with any other kind of video game), and is running cross country with Emma.

Edithe & Edline are doing well in Haiti. Our adoption process is moving forward slowly. Our most recent miracle was being able to get both girls' birth certificates. On my last trip to Haiti, I brought them to the "real toilet" in the ministry house to go to the bathroom (usually they just squat outside). Edithe was so enthralled with it, about every 30 minutes she would say, "Poppy, pee pee?" grab my hand, and have me take her to use the toilet again :-). What an adventure it will be when we finally get them home. Keep praying... we'd love to have them here by the end of May.

Jennifer continues to stay extremely busy with work, volunteering at school, singing with the worship team at church, helping with youth and our couples' small group, supporting me with our busy ministry calendar and being the mom to four amazing daughters. It is hard to believe we have been married for 18 years and have now lived in Florida for 11!

I (Doug) have traveled outside the US 13 times this year (Haiti, Kenya, Philippines, Israel), while also speaking at several youth events throughout the US. It has been a busy, fruitful season of ministry, but my greatest joy continues to be spending time at home with my wife and girls!

*Have a Blessed Christmas,
Doug, Jen & the girls*
