BE ONE ~ MAKE ONE (OR ~~FOUR~~ SIX)

BEING A DISCIPLE

Jesus calls us to be his disciples... to come and follow him. What does it mean to be Jesus' disciple? It means that we love God passionately and that we love people purposefully. It means that we willingly lay down our life, living each breath for the one who made us rather than for our own dreams and desires. It means that what is important to Jesus becomes all that is important to us.

MAKING DISCIPLES

So far in 2012, God has given me the privilege of speaking to students in Wisconsin, Minnesota, Florida and most recently South Africa, challenging them to fearlessly follow Christ. Over 100 youth have put their faith in Jesus Christ as their Savior. Many more have responded to Christ's call to lay down their dreams and desires and follow with a "whoever, whatever, whenever, wherever" kind of obedience.

KISSES FROM KATIE

A friend just gave me a copy of this New York Times Bestseller, the powerful story of a 17 year old girl from Nashville, TN who learned to follow Christ with a "whoever, whatever, whenever, wherever" kind of obedience. Katie Davis is my new hero! As I read the book on my flight home from Africa, my tears flowed, staining the pages. After graduating high school, Katie moved to Uganda, all by herself, to work in an orphanage for a year. After one semester of college back home, she returned to Uganda for good. Now at 23, Katie is seeing God use her to feed over 400 kids a day, and as a single woman, she is in the process of adopting 14 orphaned girls. Katie is changing the world, one life at a time. Katie is Jesus' disciple.

MAKING DISCIPLES AT HOME

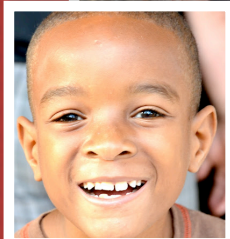

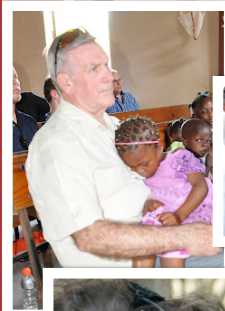

Jennifer and I want to raise disciples like Katie. As scary as it would be as a parent to see your daughter move half way around the world to one of the more dangerous places on earth, it frightens us far more to think that we would ever hold our girls back from following Jesus. We want our girls to be disciples, and to make disciples. It is why we take our girls to events like the recent Dare2Share conference, where they were challenged to share their faith with friends. How amazing to see Marisa & Jaclyn, during the conference, texting friends to initiate spiritual conversations and introduce them to Jesus. It is why we include our girls in our ministry efforts, like the upcoming mission to the Philippines. As a family, we all are missionaries. As parents, we want to take every opportunity God gives us to instill in our girls' hearts a passion for Him and a love for people. Marisa and Jaclyn will be reading Katie's book on their long flight to Asia. We are raising our own world changers!
