"GOD IS LOVE" -- Summer Fun
May 2012

Summer time means traveling, summer project, friends, family, fun, and more fun! :) Summertime has quickly arrived and I am officially done with my second year on campus. This past school year went by so fast! We have finished staff planning and it's time to get ready for the summer. There are so many things to look forward to as summer is approaching and I head back to California.

AUSTIN, TEXAS

After coming back to California for a week and a half, I was able to take a short trip out to Austin, Texas to visit some good staff friends. It was an amazing time of rest, relaxation, and getting to just hang out. It was definitely a highlight in starting the summer by going to the San Antonio Zoo, eating lots and lots of good food, going to South Congress Bridge waiting to see the largest urban bat colony in North America (which they didn't come out), and just spending quality time with really, my staff family! :) It was definitely a refresher after coming off of a busy school year and much needed as I get ready for 5 weeks in Santa Monica on summer project!

BABY BROOKLYN

I have officially become an Aunt. My first niece was born on May 22nd at 1:47am at 6lbs 11oz. It's been fun getting to visit my sister and the baby as much as I can and to already seeing her grow.

DISNEYLAND DISNEYLAND DISNEYLAND

Enough said. :) I was able to come back to California and spend my birthday and a few days after at the Happiest Place on Earth with some Ca and Hi friends!

SANTA MONICA SUMMER PROJECT 2012

Ready or not, here we go! Summertime not only means fun little trips, family, fun, and friends, but a big part of it means summer project! Last summer, I had the awesome privilege of co-leading a team to Tokyo, Japan for 6 weeks and this summer, I get the amazing opportunity to stay stateside and join 26 other staff and interns and 58 students from all over the US (9 of which are from Hawai'i) here in Santa Monica, California!!! This summer our focus is to develop leaders who can launch movements to reach every student on their campuses at home. We will minister in an ethnically and philosophically diverse environment, it's a great place to learn how to do evangelism in new ways. Our desire is to have a learning and innovative environment where we would explore new ways to engage different types of people with the Gospel. An experimental evangelism project in a hard place with an emphasis on growing leaders for major ministry! Please pray that this summer, lives would be changed not only in the hearts of staff and students, but in the city of Santa Monica! :)
