"God is Love" - Fall Preparations
July 2024

BUILDING SPIRITUAL MOVEMENTS EVERYWHERE SO THAT EVERYONE KNOWS SOMEONE WHO TRULY FOLLOWS JESUS

Summer is coming to an end and July has been filled with lots of family time, making memories, and now covid... nonetheless, it was a really sweet month of rest. I am praying for each of you as I prepare to send out thank you cards and prayers for this upcoming school year! Get ready for another photo magnet of yours truly (haha). But really, if you're not on my mailing list and want one, please email me your address!

A little life update before some ministry updates. We are holding up well and God is good. I've been really thinking about what it looks like to be present at home this summer before the craziness of the Fall picks up. Ari is growing quickly and I wish time would slow down. He loves anything to do with balls (soccer, basketball, football) and his vocabulary has quickly grown. I love that he is able to communicate more even though there are still some things I'm having to decipher. He is a joy and my prayer for him is that he would continue to grow in his knowledge of the Lord and to let his love shine. He continues to be a gift!

Baby T is doing well and he is currently with a respite family since we were supposed to be in Hawai'i before covid got us. He should be reunified soon and this whole journey with him has been so unexpected. I have such a great relationship with his family and I'm thankful that they will soon be with him again. I know that even as he goes, the relationships that we have built will continue. It's been a blessing to get to love on him and his family in this season and I continue to pray that they would come to see and know Jesus through this. Thanks for rallying around us and for being a testimony to their family! We'll see who the Lord brings into our little family next. =)

As summer comes to a close and I get ready for the craziness of Fall, I am excited for another school year. There was so much momentum built from our summer trip, that I am eagerly anticipating what this school year will hold. We have our first leadership meeting on August 16 and I am looking forward to being with my students and getting to dream and trust the Lord with them! Would you pray that more than anything, this would be another year of growth? Not just growth in numbers, but growth in fruitfulness. Growth in faithfulness. Growth in our walk and trust in Jesus.

I can't wait for the stories to tell! Again, thank YOU for all that you do. Thank you for your yes, your investment and your partnership on this journey! I am truly grateful!

I am still raising support. If you'd like to partner with me or our ministry please feel free to reach out. I know 1000% that He will continue to provide in unexpected ways!
