Dear Friends,

I'm writing to you from our Kickoff Weekend in Albany, NY. Rachel, Cody, Zac and Ryan pictured here with Greg, their summer intern coach, will be joining Patty, Anneli, and Amy going to Breakthrough, our partnership in the Middle East. From those pictured below we are also sending a team to E. Asia. These teams are committed to going for a year serving alongside of long term missionaries and national believers to reach students for Christ. What a privilege it is to be sending to the world.

We are also sending people to campuses throughout the northeast including: Albany, Boston, Buffalo, Cornell, New York City, UConn, UMass-Amherst, UMass-Dartmouth, UMaine, UNH, and Yale.

They are an answer to prayer.

This is the group I have the privilege to commission tomorrow.

Lydia (Cornell), Kelly (UConn) and me.

“Not reorganizing what we have, it’s reorganizing for what we don’t have, but we want to have,” said Mark Gauthier, the executive director of the Campus Ministry of Cru. Although the change process is filled with uncertainty and challenges, I am encouraged by our desire to be better postured so that every campus can have a community of believers seeking to share Christ with their campus community.

Please continue to pray for me as I seek God’s will about my future role with Cru. There are several that sound very appealing to me. It was only this week that the executive leaders were announced, so we are still months away from having everything figured out, including my role.

I’m so very grateful for you and your faithfulness to me and my part in helping fulfill God’s Great Commission.

Grateful God is my Rock,
