

It's a Girl!!!

Jan 21st 2008 during the half time of the Green Bay Packers and Giants game Jenn started feeling some rumblings in her stomach. Not knowing if it was something she ate or the real thing we decided to follow the doctor's advice and wait until contractions were 5 minutes apart. A few hours later her water broke and we rushed off with Jenn's dad to the hospital and arrived at 11:50pm. After only 3 hours of very painful labor Abigail (1 sam 25:3) Etta Jean Lamb was born at 2:47 am. It was so quick and surprised the staff so much that we thought a nurse was going to have to deliver Abigail. The doctor finally showed up with just minutes to spare. Abigail weighed 7 lbs 14 ounces and was 20 in long. And as far as we can tell Abigail and Jenn are totally healthy and have had no complications . We would love any of your prayers during this time of transition and lack of sleep.

21 students receive Jesus through the web

"I realize that I am lost without Him and I wanted to receive Him again in my life"

Crusade Students working EverySloStudent.com booth
Sporting the same shirt and passing out flyers

Imagine being a college student walking on to campus week 2 of winter quarter, you notice several stakes with electric green flyers that say EverySloStudent.com. You make it to your class and see the same flyer posted on the board, and notice several students in class with a similar electric green T-shirt. Later that day you go to your favorite website FaceBook.com and you see the electric green ad come up on your computer. At this point you can't stand it, you have to know what is at this website. That was our goal week 2 of winter quarter; we wanted to let as many students we could about EverySloStudent.com. This website is a safe place for students to explore who God is and what it might be like to know God. The website also lets a student email a personal question and allows us to give a personal reply. We found it's also a great resource for Christian students to answer tough questions about their faith they might have or that their non-Christian friends might have.

We plan to daily keep putting EverySloStudent.com ads up online, and from time to time put up flyers around Campus.

Results For the Week:

- 1350 Visited EverySloStudent.com
- 21 students indicated that they received Jesus into their life, many of which we are currently following up with.

What students are emailing us on EverySloStudent.com

Lauren - "I grew up as a Christian. I switched to a public high school and it was during those four years that I changed and grew distant from God. Now that I am a sophomore in college, I realize that I am lost without Him and I wanted to receive Him again in my life. I found the EverySloStudent.com site through Campus Crusade's Weekly meeting. Please email me information to help me grow in my relationship with God."

"Do Christians really believe that God will send every Hindu and every Buddhist to hell for eternity? I thought God loves everybody."

*Thanks so much for your prayers and giving, none of this could happen without you,
