God Moves Powerfully at Fall Getaway

We just wrapped up Fall Getaway, and it was the perfect chance for students to hit the reset button! This year was an intentional escape from the constant university hustle, a time to relax, make awesome new friends, recharge their spiritual batteries with the Lord, and get fired up to bring what they learned back to campus! We were excited to welcome 133 college students overall, including a fantastic group of 20 students from Buffalo (and other Universities from Rochester and Syracuse!). Our speaker, Shelby Abbott, brought the Gospel with incredible power and clarity in every one of his talks. The entire weekend was filled with authentic community and the powerful, challenging truth of Scripture. It was amazing to witness so much transformation and growth! Check out a few photos from the weekend below!

UB Guys, praying that God would use them back on their campus.

God's Using Instagram to Draw Students to Christ!

This semester, we've been experimenting with a new way to connect with students, meeting them right where they already spend most of their time: Instagram. And honestly, God has been using it in ways we didn't expect. At the University at Buffalo alone, we've been able to connect with around 30 students we never would have met without starting conversations on Instagram. Those little messages have turned into real-life meetups, gospel conversations, and open doors we couldn't have created on our own.

One day early in the semester, around noon, the staff and I were messaging new students on Instagram, and one guy named Aaron messaged back almost instantly, saying he could grab lunch right now, and he would love to hear more about Cru and talk about God. Tyler, one of our staff, said he was free and headed out to meet him. Then, at 1:13 p.m. later that day, the staff group chat lit up with a message from Tyler:

“Just met up with Aaron, and he prayed to receive Christ! We were talking, and the Lord has definitely been moving in his life!”

God is alive and active on campus. He's using every avenue, even Instagram, to draw students to Himself. So far this semester, we've seen 7 students accept Christ, and we are celebrating every single story.
