winter conference

Abigail, Dave, Hazyl learning to reach their high school's for Christ

Molly and Allie Cru Buffalo Grads put on conference to help train high school students

God is moving in High Schools

I have two kids in high school, Abigail (17) and David (14), and I've been blessed to meet some of their incredible Christian friends. It seems like if these students had just a bit more structure, training, and help they could make a huge difference on their campuses for Christ. As God was stirring something in my heart, two Buffalo State College Cru graduates, Molly and Allie, who are now working for Cru High School in Boston, reached out. They asked if we had any high school students who'd be interested in attending a conference in Connecticut that was all about helping high school students be trained to reach their classmates for Christ. Isn't that amazing how God works timing? In the end, we decided to send my two kids and a girl named Hazyl. Hazyl is graduating from a different high school, but wants to leave a legacy with the Christian group she is leading. They all had an incredible time and learned so much. Now that they're back, I'm working on getting some local volunteers who've shown interest in helping the students. We're also getting some distance coaching from Cru High School to support them. Would you pray with us that God does amazing things through these young high school students?

Winter Conference and How God is moving though out NY

This winter conference was absolutely amazing! Our Cru Buffalo students really bonded, and learned a ton about growing in their faith and sharing their beliefs. You know what's really cool? Many Cru movements in New York have noticed a huge increase in attendance for every area of ministry. Last year, we had 16 students go to winter conference, but this year, we had a 24! Our weekly meetings and Fall Getaway have also seen a big jump in numbers. Of course, the most important thing in ministry is heart change, but numbers can give us a sense of what God is up to. It seems like He's really drawing more college students into a relationship with Him. If you could pray that God keeps this up and that Cru Buffalo and all of NY is ready for whatever He has in store, we'd be so grateful!

Cru Buffalo Students at Winter Conference

Another snowy spring semester is here, and with all the exciting promo for the new semester, weekly meetings, Bible studies, discipleship, socials, and evangelism with students on three college campuses, I've got a lot to share! But I'm trying to keep this short and sweet. Just know that God is being glorified through all this, and we couldn't do it without your prayers and support. Thanks so much!
