Girls = GREAT Guys bible study

I co-lead my freshman bible study with Colin, one of the guys from my sophomore bible study. We ended the year with 6 freshman guys coming weekly, one of whom isn't a Christian and that I have been meeting with weekly. Colin will start discipling 2 of the guys next year. To be honest the study was struggling the first half of the year, but the guys really started to commit once Jenn's and my studies started hanging out. After bible study we would get ice cream together, and we started going on creative dates some weekends.

Our freshman studies ended the year with a "Prom Bowling Party", we had them over to our place for dinner and then went bowling. Many of our bible study students brought their non-Christian friends from the dorms.

My girls freshman study was such a blessing for me this year, I ended up with 13 girls coming consistently. They all truly had a heart to reach out to non-Christians around them and were always bringing them to bible study. So much so that 2 girls came to know Christ this year. Many of the other girls really decided to make their relationship with Christ their own. In fact two of the girls, Laura and Heather's lives had been changed so much this year in our bible study community, that they felt it was time to get serious and make a public confession of their faith by getting baptized. They wanted to get baptized in the community they had grown in and would be held accountable in. Baptism is something Crusade usually leaves for churches to do, but when students ask, we will do it from time to time. Kevin is a commissioned minister of the Gospel and has a title of Rev. Lamb which allows him to marry, bury, and baptize.

We will be in Tucson August 19 !!!

Please join us for lunch at Casas Adobes Baptist Church at 12:30pm.

We will do an update about East Asia and our lives!

An arrest brings a student to bible study

My sophomore bible study gained 4 new guys so currently a total of 15 guys attend! I met one of the new guys on campus one after noon while sharing Christ with students. His name is Oscar and he had prayed to receive Christ but hadn't been living for Him. I invited him to the bible study hoping that he would get plugged in. That next weekend Oscar got arrested for getting in a fight, which really shook him up.

End of year soph. guys beach bonfire

Oscar realized his need to turn his life around and so he has been going to bible study ever since!

Another new guy, Daniel, was brought by one of the veterans in the group, Josh, who has the gift of evangelism. Daniel prayed to receive Christ with Josh after going to the bible study only two weeks!

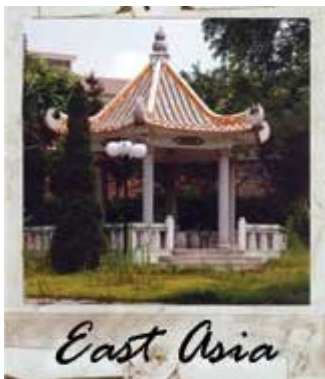

Next fall 7 guys in the study will be reaching the campus by starting freshman studies in the dorms.

End of the School Year Highlights

- 50+ known decisions for Christ!!
- 56 Cal Poly students are going on summer mission trips!!
- 6 new interns will serve with us at Cal Poly next year!!

Some of our graduating seniors

Please pray for us as we lead a team of 24 students (14 from Cal Poly) from June 26 to Aug 9 overseas to East Asia, which is closed to the gospel. We will be taking language classes in the morning and then spending our afternoons and evening meeting friends and talking about Christ.

This is the third campus in East Asia that Cal Poly students are bringing Christ to. The other two campuses are now completely run by national staff. The friends that we make and those that receive Christ will be followed up by a long term team. This team will be made up of Cal Poly students that have decided to serve a whole year in East Asia!
