CRU MISSIONARIES AT BUFFALO | April 2015

Lumesh is from Guyana and grew up Hindu, and is currently an RA in the dorms at Daemen College. Two of our Cru leaders Ashley and Maria are also RA's with Lumesh in the dorms. Ashley and Maria hang out with Lumesh a lot so it wasn't hard for conversations about Jesus to come up.

We survived the coldest Feb. on record! avg of 10.9 degrees. Brrrr!

Ashley told us, "As Maria and I became closer friends with Lumesh we began to invite him to hang out with us more and with other students in Cru. We also began praying for Lumesh frequently. It was so exciting when right before Christmas break Lumesh texted me asking if I had an extra Bible and if he could borrow it and read it over the break. I was so excited!"

Lumesh was super interested in knowing more about Jesus, so Ashley asked me (Kevin) if I would meet up with Lumesh, which I of course was happy to do. He had a lot of great questions and I was able to share with him the gospel in a clear way. One of Lumesh's main issues with Jesus is that he can't quite grasp "why God loves us so much?" Honestly, I was stumped on how to respond for a moment, other than saying "I don't really know, it is just who He is. But I am so glad He is loving, and if Jesus of the Bible is true which I believe He is we can trust that God is loving like Jesus said." Our conversation ended there because he said he had to rush off to class.

I wasn't sure if Lumesh was looking for a quick way to end or if he really had to go. So a few minutes later I sent Lumesh a text saying how great it was to talk to with him and invited him to our men's community group. He has shown up to the last 3 men's group with the Bible that Ashley and Maria gave him ready to learn more! Right now we are reading through the book, "More than a Carpenter". It gives facts about Jesus, the Bible, the resurrection, etc. Pray that he reads it and we have great discussion and ultimately he starts to follow and believe in Christ. I'm going to start meeting up with Lumesh next week to discuss the book. He is so close!
