Reaching "WON by ONE"

Vacation Break? or should I say school break is out and has come back so quick but never a ministry break that's for sure. Please pardon our delay of this letter our beloved due to my travels . . There is always something to do for the Lord .Family and I had a great opportunity to travel all of us on one of the largest vessels here in the Philippines and they call it "Super ferry" and its super !,now of course this is not my first time to be in one of these ships but it is for my daughters and they really loved it . . We went to and Island called Cebu about 8 hours overnight and to schedule our daughters passport at the U.S Embassy . At the same time a little time to get away from the norm of things and attend a bible conference . A little disappointed not paying attention to the time frame we went during Veterans day and the Philippines is 12 hours ahead so our arrival is considered as a Monday there and all Gov't facilities are closed . Trying to make some preparations for our upcoming visit to the States again . we only plan about 9-10months only due to the heavy works we have here and we are just going to make some pit stop during our journey . God has opened endless opportunity for ministry here and we continue to "Plug on " TLW ? Well this is one of our "Moral value " Education seminar that we conduct in High schools and even youth groups and this is one of the youth Fellowship with over 200 Young people to conduct a True Love Waits Seminar concerning sexual Purity in their lives what a blessing (.Back Side page) The Lord has opened another door for us in reaching a private school in using the same program design Amen ! .

Our children Ministry with over 25 kids !!!

Finding treasure of a Word of Life Quiet time Diary in a garbage dump so we decided to teach Ms. Letx how to use it ."one mans JUNK is another mans TREASURE"
