

LIFE WITH LINDSEY

In their own words...

the impact a year can have.

Saying goodbye to interns is the hardest part of my job here. It's amazing to see the impact that a short amount of time investing in their lives can have on these interns. Last month I had a tea party for 2 interns from East Asia that were leaving that week, Sisi (who had trusted Christ with me last year) and Lilly (who has not yet trusted Christ but is so close!). I received a sweet note of thanks from each of them. Their thank you to me is also a thank you to you because you are the reason I am able to be a part of their lives! So in their own words here is a small picture into what God does when we give our lives away...

From Lily: "I've gone through all the words, but the best word for me to say is still "thankful". You opened a door for me. So I've had a chance to meet Kristel, and to know more about God. This means so much to me. Through all of this, I also learned how to open the door of my heart and welcome something into my heart which is completely new to me. Thank you for listening all the questions I asked you. And I know you are ready for more questions in the future, aren't you? I'll miss you so much in East Asia, Lindsey. I mean it."

From Sisi: "I just really want to thank you for everything in this year! Thanks for taking care of me with my journey in believing in God, it helps a lot! And also, thanks for being my friend, I feel really lucky to get a chance to know you."

Pray for Lily and Sisi as they are home now! We've been able to connect Lily to some believers in her hometown. Pray she would put her trust in Christ and that Sisi would continue to grow in her young faith! Sisi told me she really wants to share her faith with her dad, pray she has great courage for this!

Below: hanging out with interns at Magic Kingdom. To my right: Christian (German), Aviva (American), and Elfreida (Namibia), Stef (German... taking the pic) and Cate, my teammate on my left! Continue to pray for time with these interns. Elfreida is a strong believer who Cate disciples. The other 3 do not yet know Jesus. Stef is very interested in God though and really wants to learn about a personal relationship with Jesus!

This weekend is our Easter Outreach, we are trusting the Lord for 60 interns to come. Pray that we would be able to follow up the interns that come well and quickly! Pray for Kevin and I as we have just a month and a half left until the wedding, that we would continue to keep our eyes fixed on Jesus and enjoy this season!

I'M SO THANKFUL FOR YOUR PRAYERS AND SUPPORT!
