AT Ball State University

Giving the Gospel

Sitting across from Cameron, who was decked out in his Cubs jersey and cap, it quickly became apparent that he had no idea where he was going to spend eternity. I asked him a few questions about life and what happens after we die. His reactions were that of a person who never took the time to even dwell on such a topic, but was now faced with the reality of his own eternal destiny. This led to a 30-minute conversation ending in a prayer of repentance and a transfer of trust from himself to Christ. Please pray for Cameron to get involved with CRU and begin growing in his new relationship with God.

Porn Nation

Michael Leahy, the author of the book, Porn Nation, walked out onto the stage at Emens auditorium at Ball State to the applause of 1000 eager students. The topic of sex seems to always attract large crowds. This sad reality only proves Michael's main point, which was that we currently live in a sex-crazed world. You can't watch a T.V. show, read a magazine, walk to class, or surf the web without being barraged by sexual advertisement. This has also made the world of pornography much more available and acceptable. Throughout the night Michael wove his personal story of a thirty-year battle with pornography addiction that led to major financial trouble, loss of his job, and divorce. Then he made the connection to the soul. He said, "porn is a problem because it inhibits the formation of real and honest relationships." The most important relationship it inhibits is our relationship with God. He shared the gospel at the end and 50 students indicated that they put their trust in Christ. Praise God!

Prayer Corner

Porn Nation

Follow up from the event would lead to more conversations about the gospel. Pray that God would use this event to grow His kingdom.

Spring Breaks

Students would experience Christ at Big Break and in East Asia. Pray for students to develop a greater vision for God and his redemptive plan.

Giving the Gospel

CRU students have been taking faith steps in evangelism that have led to many gospel conversations, please pray that this will continue. Many students have trusted in Christ this year.
