Catching up with the family

A little insight into our family as we wind up the school year. Settling into our new house has been fun, what an incredible gift from the Lord. We are so thankful for His provision for us. We have somewhat taken in a little kitty cat that the kids have named Mistress Tigress Hunter Cat; apparently she came with the house. By taken in, I mean she is an outdoor cat that our kids are trying to bring indoors. They love her and I love her because they have a pet that I don't have to clean up after.

We are starting to bring things to a close with homeschooling, I think Ethan and I are both ready for a break. Both Ethan and Sydney are playing soccer and Teagan wishes he could.

Ethan says, "We have been doing lots of fun stuff. I'm playing soccer now that Awana is over. I loved the cookout we had with Daddy's guys (i.e. Jeremy's Bible Study)." The whole family is somewhat sad because we've had to say goodbye to a few seniors that we have grown close to who are now graduating. Thank you so much for allowing us to invest in the lives of students at Ball State. It is such a blessing to graft them into our family for the four years that they are here. You make it all possible.

Two of those graduates got married in April, Dustin and Whitney. They were students that we had the privilege of ministering to and with during their time at Ball State. They were both so special to our family. Ethan and Sydney were the ring bearer and flower girl, and Heather and I got to speak encouragement and challenge to them during the wedding ceremony.

Celebrate with us what the Lord has done through our partnership!

- We praise the Lord for His faithfulness in providing such a tremendous group of student leaders to shepherd the movement.
- The Lord raised up men's and women's access groups in almost every dorm this year.
- Fifty people professed faith in Christ at the Porn Nation event.
- Praise the Lord that more and more students in the movement appear to be understanding and living in light of the good news of the Gospel.
- More students attended the Fall Retreat and Christmas Conference than ever before, which means freshmen are getting connected to the ministry and our movement is growing in faith and the mission of getting, giving, and multiplying the impact of the gospel at Ball State and around the world.
- God has laid the groundwork and opened doors for ministry to fraternities, sororities, and international students.
- Students are taking other students to share their faith in unprecedented numbers.
- Through our East Asia partnership 5 students have trusted Christ this year and movements of evangelism and discipleship are growing on the two campuses in our partnership city.
- Praise God that students have taken the lead to share the Gospel with other students more than any year in memory.
- Nearly 1,000 BSU students attended the Porn Nation event.
- Praise the Lord that a number of faculty and staff stated that Porn Nation was the best publicized event they'd ever seen on campus.
- 100 students got up on a Saturday morning this semester to learn how to share their faith.
- Students like never before have gone from being lost to becoming Christ-centered laborers.
- Praise the Lord how small group Bible study leaders have prayed, labored, and invested in significant ways through significant obstacles.
- We rejoice that students have grown in their faith and taken dramatic steps of faith in so many different ways.
- Over 300 students have been attending around 50 small-group Bible studies this year.
- Literally thousands of BSU students were given opportunities to learn about Christ and the Gospel this year.
- We are thankful for the 30+ professions of faith that we know of that came as a result of one-on-one evangelism.
- Praise the Lord for the incredible and widespread demonstrations of Godly character on the part of our student leaders this year.
- There is a widespread willingness on the part of many students to be vulnerable, confess sin, and pursue each other in community.

Thank you for investing in the lives of students,
