

THE REDDY FAMILY

Dear partners in the gospel,

Much has happened since our last letter. I apologize deeply for the delay in communication. Let me assure you that God has been at work. Two ways in which the gospel has been advancing in the past few months is through our East Asia/Ball State partnership and Indy CC.

As I boarded the United flight on the last leg of my trip I couldn't help but think about the amazing plan of God to unify the world in worship around His throne one day. People from every tongue, tribe, and nation will sing in unison of his grace and holiness. That will be quite an experience! During my fall visit to our partnership in East Asia I was able to see yet another part of God's unfolding plan of world-wide redemption.

Jack and Parker are two new staff with CRU in East Asia. Their lives were both transformed by the power of God during their time at the East Asian University we partner with.

Both came to Christ and were built up in their faith during college through our STINT teams, and both decided to dedicate their lives to reaching their country with the gospel of Jesus. I'm so glad I can share this news with you because you are such a vital part of making it happen!

Stint Team - Jack and Parker on the far right

Stay connected...

* www.ballstatecru.com

Our BSU CRU official website.

* <http://thereddys.blogspot.com>

Keep up with our growing family through our online photo album.

Thank you for your continued partnership in the gospel!

Jeremy and Heather, Ethan, Sydney and Teagan

INDY CC 2009- Wrecked into Redemption

Three days after Christmas, as the world prepared to bid farewell to the first decade of the new millennium, nearly 2,000 young men and women from the college campuses of Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, and Ohio gathered in Indianapolis for IndyCC, the annual student conference held by the Great Lakes Region of Campus Crusade for Christ (Cru). Students traveled through a snowstorm and bitter-cold winds, but thankfully all got to the conference safe and sound to join together for what would prove to be one of Cru's most challenging yet most inspiring conferences yet.

This year, the IndyCC theme was both delicate and personal: "Wrecked into Redemption." As the title implies, IndyCC '09 was all about God's redeeming work in the lives of those who would be willing to be broken by Him—completely taken apart, shattered, wrecked. The main speakers, James MacDonald spoke on the topics of repentance, revival, and responding to God's calling. While the atmosphere throughout the main sessions was worshipful and even solemn, the speaker's messages to students carried the hope of deep healing, rooted in the simplicity of God's all-encompassing love.

On December 30, students got to share God's love with the Indy community. As in previous years, IndyCC students joined local church leaders to deliver boxes of food to poor neighborhoods and prisons, sharing Christ's compassion for the suffering and His message of love. They spoke with nearly 2,500 people: 1,125 heard the gospel, 131 prayed to receive Jesus, and 691 expressed a desire to connect to a local church.

EQUIPPING

SHARING

PRAYING

PRAISING

