The harvest is plentiful, but the laborers are few. Therefore pray earnestly to the Lord of the harvest to send out laborers into his harvest. ~Jesus, Luke 10:2

Dear Partners,

We share the gospel with students, teach them to pursue Jesus through His Word, help them have a ministry in college, and challenge them to follow Christ wherever He calls them. We support our seniors as they step out into a range of vocations.

During the last couple months I have been encouraged as I've reconnected with some of our alumni to see them walk with Christ as teacher, engineer, lawyer, businessman, government employee, mom, or dad. I've heard them talk about planting churches, witnessing to colleagues, and wanting to build Christ's Kingdom where they are. Sending our mission-driven graduates to the workplace is significant.

Yet this year more than ever, I've been amazed at how many of our students are graduating from a secular university with plans of seminary and/or some kind of full-time ministry. In fact, would you believe that just this year, 26 of our graduates plan to work with one of the ministries that Campus Crusade has around the world?

The last I heard, seven people have applied to go to Uruguay, where there are only two fulltime and two part-time staff members in the whole country. One married couple has applied to spend their first few years on staff in the Middle East. Others have applied to another closed Muslim country, a communist country in East Asia, and Ghana, Africa.

Below you can read why the Waller twins say they'll part ways next year to reach students for Christ.

Truly the university is one of the most fruitful places for raising up laborers. And that is what we pray and strive for. Thank you for being a vital part of the process.

Prayer Requests:

Pray for tranquility in our home. We love our kids, but the last couple months have been some of the most tiring we've faced as Evan has been ill and less content.

In just over a month, Scott will return to lead the North Myrtle Beach summer project leaving Bonnie and the kids for a couple weeks to finish school.

Pray for Bonnie to fare well and for Evan to travel well when the time comes.

Pray for Scott to finish well in Madison while being fully prepared to lead the 125 people this summer.

Laborer to reach lost students here

"As a student who came into college searching for happiness in everything besides Christ, I know first-hand the need at UW-Madison.

Cru has played a pivotal, life-changing role in my life. Cru introduced me to the gospel, helped me grow in my faith after accepting Christ, and has trained me to be a sent laborer for His kingdom.

By interning with Cru in Madison, I will meet women who are in the same place I was 3 1/2 years ago, and I will be able to share the gospel message of grace and redemption with them."

Laborer to other-side of the globe

"In America we have several opportunities PER DAY to encounter God. Whether it be on the internet, walking past a church, or listening to the radio—the truth of Jesus and His Gospel are available.

In East Asia, someone could go their ENTIRE LIFE without even hearing the name Jesus, let alone hearing about what He did for us on the cross. God commands us to make disciples of ALL nations.

After spending a week in East Asia this past fall, I realized college students in East Asia WANT to know about Jesus. They want to know Truth. All they need is someone who is willing to GO and tell them about Him. God has called me to be one of those people."
