

Dear Partner,

We have some amazing student leaders on campus. In August, they set a goal to talk about the gospel with 1500 people during the first six weeks of school. During the last few weeks, they have worked very hard to get face-to-face with tons of students.

Jennifer is one of these student leaders who understand the importance of perseverance and loving care while reaching out on campus.

She tried three times to meet a freshman named Katie in her dorm room, but she was always gone. Finally, the night of the first Bible study, Jennifer stopped by Katie's room. Katie said she didn't have much of a spiritual background, though in high school Katie took a Bible literature class that piqued her interest.

That night, Katie came to her first Bible study and asked question after question. She was obviously quite interested. A couple days later, she attended Primetime, our large group campus meeting. Sitting next to Jennifer and another friend from her dorm, Katie had tears after hearing the gospel and wrote on an information card that she put her faith in Jesus.

While Jennifer walked backed to the dorm with her, Katie shared that she wanted Christ in her life and prayed to receive Christ at the meeting.

The next week at Bible study, the group shared personal actions steps for the week. Katie said, "You know, I became a Christian last week, but I haven't really told anyone. I think this week I want to tell people." Afterward, Jennifer met with her to help figure out how best to communicate this with others, including her atheist boyfriend, and to show her ways she can grow in her new faith.

Like I said, we have amazing leaders. And God has been using them. Besides Katie, 20 other students indicated decisions that night during our weekly meeting and 15 others have said yes to Jesus through personal conversations. God is working.

Thank you again for allowing Him to use you, too, through your gifts and prayers. You make our outreach possible.
