What could God do if we just prayed for one person every day?

Our team has been building a simple but powerful habit: using a prayer calendar. Each day of the month, we reach out to one person and ask how we can pray for them.

When they respond, we write out the prayer and send it to them either as a message or as an audio recording. Sometimes I even call and pray with them directly. It's one thing to know someone is praying for you, but it's something else entirely to hear those words aloud or read them again later.

Here are a few responses from the last few weeks:

- "Your prayer came at just the right time."
- "It may not seem like a lot to you, but knowing you're praying for me every month means so much to me."
- "I'm so touched that you want to pray for me."

This small rhythm helps us stay connected with people across the country who we've trained in using MyFriends. It keeps us in step with what God is doing in their lives and gives us a chance to encourage them personally. I've also added a few non-Christian friends who seem more open to Jesus. It's been deeply encouraging to see how they respond, often with gratitude and surprise, even though they don't yet follow him.

If you'd like to start a prayer calendar of your own, I'd love to help. You can start today by writing down 30 names—one for each day of the month. Reach out, ask how you can pray, and see what God does in your heart and theirs as you move forward with simple, consistent faith.

Helping reach Slovenia for Jesus through your prayers and partnership,

Jordan + Niki

Mid-June is a power week of celebrations for our family: Father's Day, our anniversary, and two birthdays (Raegan turned 10 and Griffin turned 6). We also celebrated the 4th of July with some fellow American friends!

Prayers + Praises

Pray that others in Slovenia would develop the habit of using a prayer calendar. We believe God hears and answers our prayers and uses them to fuel the expansion of his kingdom.

Pray for meaningful time with our disciples. Summer often brings a mass exodus from the city as people travel. Ask God to give us intentional, quality time with those we're discipling whenever we're in the same place.

Pray for a movement of people in Slovenia who walk closely with Jesus. Ask God to use us to help others live for Christ and lay down their lives for others.
