

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Yvette,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Dan and Amie,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear John,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Bubba,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Mama,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Grandpa Don and Mary Alice,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Joe and Cheryl,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Jared,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Val,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Brad and Katie,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Rob and Jaime,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Evelyn,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Stephen and Amanda,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Kelly,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Jeff and Carolyn,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Sam and Lesley,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Carol,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Aron and Rachel,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Josh and Meg,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Brian and Brooke,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Dylan and Joy,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Friends,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Joshua and Elyse,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Gary,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Jared and Ashley,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Mitch and Shannon,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Friends at Cornerstone,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Adam and Brittany,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Jay and Janice,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear BJ and Katy,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Susan,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Jared and Sam,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Caleb and Michaela,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Andy and Colleen,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Dan and Kim,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Jerry and Debbie,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Randy and Courtney,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Chris and Jenna,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Gerry,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Matthew and Matt,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Doug and Paula,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Jon and Lynsay,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Friends at Grace Bible Church,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Matt and Amy,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Nick and Laura,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Mindy and Mark,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Jimmie and Kristin,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Cliff and Katie,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Dave and Kara,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Steve and Stacy,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Chris and Morgan,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Alex and Erica,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on

the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Dan and Casey,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Kimmy,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Dustin,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Ryan and Karen,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Brian and Colleen,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Bryce and Krista,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Tammy,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Jack and Vickie,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Tom and Jolie,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Daniel and Ashley,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Daniel and Lindsey,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Scott and Emily,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Dennis and Sandi,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Rick and Amy,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Sam,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Matt,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Eric and Sarah,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Brian,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Chuck and Suzie,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Zac and Katelynn,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Barry,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Justin and Erin,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Sean and Angela,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Josh and Janelle,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Bryan and Michelle,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Jack and Deb,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Jeff and Jennifer,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Wayne and Kim,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Roger and Sharon,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Larry,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Jon and Heidi,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Ron and LeAnn,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Noah and Stephanie,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Jeff,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Randy and Nancy,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Norman and Rachael,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Kevin and Mary,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Michael and Rebecca,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Bob and Kaitlin,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear John and Kathy,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Michael and Chris,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Billy and Laura,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Jock and Caitlin,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Gari and Darlene,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Dave and Rachel,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Ma,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Pops and Pat,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Jon and Daniella,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Greg and Marie,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Jordan and Emily,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Kurt and Debbie,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Jordan and Courtney,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Greg and Jane,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Spence and Jenny,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Reggie and Jennette,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Sam,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Chuck and Terri,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Tracy and Nancy,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Matt and Cathy,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Joe and Christy,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Mr. and Mrs. T,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Grandpa and Gaga,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Rusty and Sherry,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Scott and Chelsea,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Drew and Lauren,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Dr. and Mrs. Vedder,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Gary and Lauren,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Jessica,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Caleb,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Chip and Debbie,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Jim and Nancy,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Matt and Emily,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Kelby and Nicole,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Matt and Abby,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Ashley,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Pastor Brenda,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Jacob and Jessica,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Marilyn,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Stephen and Sarah,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Jordan and Niki Shirkman
Reaching and equipping Slovenes for Jesus

November 28, 2024

Dear Ray,

"I've been looking for you," Adam called out to me (Jordan). "I'm a Muslim, but I'll never forget what you did for me. Things have been going so well for me, and I know it's because of the prayer you prayed for me," he continued. It wasn't the response I expected as Žan (a follower of Jesus we've mentioned throughout this year) and I met for a quick lunch to connect about making disciples of Jesus in his hometown.

Last November, our family visited a new Mexican restaurant—a rarity in Slovenia. While there, I struck up a conversation with an employee named Adam, an Egyptian who had moved here after marrying a Slovenian woman. After we finished our meal, I offered to pray for him, and he eagerly agreed, sharing his desire for God to bless his future and grant him success in life and work. Placing a hand on his shoulder, I prayed that Jesus would meet his needs and, above all, that Adam would come to know how deeply Jesus loves him.

I had stopped by a few times to try to connect with Adam, but he was never working when I dropped by. Imagine my surprise when he remembered a simple prayer from a year ago! After catching up, I had a chance to pray for him again. Before we left, Adam said, "I'm a Muslim, but now I believe in Jesus." What that belief fully means is still unfolding, but it's clear God is at work, drawing Adam closer to Christ.

My interaction with Adam also encouraged Žan, who left inspired to take steps of faith to bless and pray for others around him. As we reflect on the way God is at work here in the lives of Adam, Žan, and many others, we're reminded of the privilege of joining the Lord in His kingdom work in Slovenia. This Christmas, we're trusting God for $15,000 in year-end gifts to help expand His work across Slovenia. Your gift will allow us to stay focused on reaching Slovenes with the gospel by covering critical needs, including costs related to Selah's birth, vision therapies and asthma treatments for Raegan and Griffin, and the ongoing expenses of life and ministry here.

Would you prayerfully consider giving a year-end gift of $1,000, $500, $100, or another amount? Your gift can make a tangible difference, helping people like Adam experience the transforming love of Jesus.

You can give:

- By mailing a check to "Cru" in the enclosed envelope
- Securely online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>
- Or by stock transfer or non-cash gift by emailing Jordan.Shirkman@cru.org.

We're deeply grateful for your prayers and partnership in reaching Slovenes for Christ.

God is moving in exciting ways, and we are blessed to make Jesus known alongside you. May his love and peace fill your heart this Christmas season.

With tremendous thankfulness,

Jordan + Niki

P.S. We thank God for you + your faithful partnership with us! Whether you're able to give an additional gift or not, we'd love to have a prayer request or two from you.

Name: _____

Yes, I/we would like to invest an additional year-end gift in your ministry to enable you to continue reaching and equipping Slovenes for Christ in 2025.

☐ I/we have enclosed a check made payable to Cru.

☐ I/we will give a special gift of $_____ online at <https://give.cru.org/0642948>.

Prayer Requests: _____
