Most people don't look forward to Mondays. For us, however, Mondays became the highlight of the week this spring as we gathered with five participants from the mountainous region of the country for our MyFriends disciple-making training. These five followers of Jesus have hearts for God, his Kingdom, and people who are far from him.

On our final evening together, several participants shared what our weekly time together meant to them:

- "I'm going to miss Mondays. I truly looked forward to our time together every week."
- "My husband and I especially appreciated how simple and practical each session was. My mom and I prayed together for the first time, even though she is very opposed to Christianity. We also gained more courage to step out and talk about Jesus."
- "Thank you to the MyFriends team. You have wonderful hearts and have given us wonderful insight. Thank you not only for what you shared, but for the way you shared it with us. This is one of the best trainings we've ever experienced."

It was a genuine joy to begin the MyFriends journey with this group. Their eagerness to learn, grow, and share what they were discovering with others was an encouragement to us throughout the training.

As we continue serving in Slovenia, our desire is to equip Christians to make disciples in an increasingly postmodern, post-Christian culture, while also being disciple-makers ourselves who faithfully share the hope of Jesus with those who are far from him, all thanks to your partnership which enables this work.

Jordan + Niki

Our group gathered one final time to celebrate the end of our MyFriends training, joined by several family members. We reflected on how God had worked in our hearts over the past few months and celebrated all that he had done during our time together.

Prayers + Praises

Praise God for this group of disciple-makers who are eager to help others know Jesus. Pray the Lord would prepare the hearts of their friends, family members, neighbors, and coworkers to receive Christ.

Pray that God would raise up more Slovenian believers who are eager to grow as disciple-makers. Ask God to provide boldness, conviction, and opportunities as we continue equipping Christ-followers throughout the country.

Pray for this summer to be refreshing for our disciples. Pray they would be connecting deeply with the Lord, with other believers, and with people around them who are far from God.
