

JOSHUA'S JOURNAL

NOVEMBER 2007

For the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea. -Habbakuk 2:14

Adam, the highlight of the semester

I met Adam on the first day of classes this fall. Through a random series of connections Paul Scheele and I drove Adam to Auto Zone in an effort to help him to buy a car battery to replace his old one. A few weeks later and 2 Chipotle burritos into our relationship, Adam communicated an interest to reaching out to his fraternity brothers. He is a senior and after coming to faith a few years ago in a similar study in his fraternity house, his heart now beats for people to understand who Jesus is. His desire is big and he sees with spiritual eyes the deep need of the situation at the house.

He has a very real and deep passion to help people think well and understand why a relationship with God is possible. He is still young in his faith and I can relate to the passion and fervent desire to help them see with new eyes. Obviously, it is something we can't do on our own. Would you pray with us for the TKE house and the venue that God would open their eyes to see the glory of Christ?

THOUGHTS OF CONVICTION:

Forgiveness is man's deepest need and greatest accomplishment.

- Horace Bushnell

If we love someone, we love what they love.

- C.S. Lewis

PRAYER REQUESTS:

-Denver Christmas Conference is one of the most significant events we do all year. More happens in a week than in an entire semester of discipleship. Pray that 40 KSU students would go!

-TKE's- That the eyes would be opened of the 8-12 guys who have come to learn and understand God, faith and life.

-My heart is excited about life. Its a sweet season. I am enjoying ministry a lot. But you could pray for my future direction and giftedness as I continue to grow and understand the vision God has given my life.

Together we've started and maintained a study using NOOMA videos in the TKE house here at KSU. I have no idea where most of these guys are at spiritually and it is really funny some of the questions that come up. Throughout the semester about 12 guys have come into contact with deep truths and great conversations about how faith relates to real life. Even though they are all over the map spiritually, many possess a desire in something greater than themselves. And we've had a few gospel presentations. I'm praying for more interaction with them personally. It is one of the most exciting venues for growth and dialogue I've been a part of in years. Two of the guys are thinking about going to our annual Christmas Conference!!

None of this would be possible without Adam. I've appreciated Adam's friendship and I see a leader in him that will continue to transform this world and labor to redeem it for Christ as he continues on in his life after the university.