Change is Hard

You know that feeling you get when you're trying to stick with a lifestyle change (I don't like to call them resolutions) and you hit a major speed bump? Yeah, us too! That same feeling is true when leading an organization or ministry through change. It's hard.

We all know change can be hard, but the right change is always necessary. Just this month, as a new semester has begun, we're beginning to roll out a new effort that we believe will result in a movement across the campuses of the city. But we don't claim to have any new insight or wisdom; it's really just an "old" idea that's being rediscovered by the Church. It's disciple-making.

Matt meeting with a freshman to communicate the heart of discipleship

You know those pivotal words that Jesus spoke right before He left earth? "Go and make disciples of all nations..." Matt. 28:19. I'll admit that the idea of making disciples can feel daunting at times. Where do you start? What about those who don't know Jesus yet? What exactly IS discipleship? The best example I can find is in the life of Jesus.

He saw it best to invest most of His ministry time into 12 disciples whom He entrusted the entire gospel message. That seems risky! But we see in Acts that the growth of the Church in the early days was exponential because of their commitment to knowing Jesus and one another (Acts 2:42-47).

As Jenny and I continue to lead our students into a deeper vision and understanding of discipleship, please pray with us that God's Spirit would give us wisdom in how to shepherd, love, and speak truth. We want to motivate and align with care. Thanks for praying. We cherish your partnership!

Baby #2 - It's a Girl!

The Lord has blessed us with another little life! Baby Williams is due to arrive early April. Both Jenny and the baby are doing well and tracking right on schedule. We would love your prayers for continued health and emotional energy as we get ready to expand our team.

Again, we are so grateful for your partnership in prayer and giving. It allows us to care for our family and build spiritual movements on campus! :)
