Growing the Marian Movement

We sincerely desire to reach every pocket of every campus in Indianapolis with the good news of Jesus Christ. In order to see that come true, we believe the most strategic path forward is reaching and discipling the athletes. We are trusting God to build a multi-ethnic movement of Christ-followers on every college team across Indianapolis. As a result, we want to reach the whole campus through reaching and discipling athletes. Here is an update about how we see God at work on one of our campuses, Marian University.

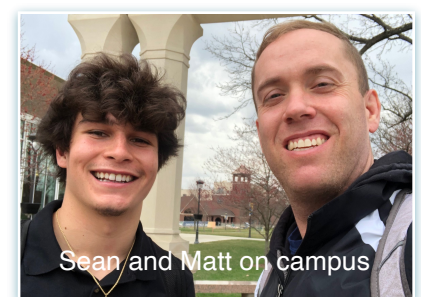

Meeting with Sean and teammates in the student union

In early March, I (Matt) met with Sean, a freshman on the Marian football and cycling teams. We had a great conversation about his faith journey, and I shared about the vision of Indy AIA. Sean quickly caught the vision and got excited about inviting his teammates to join. The following week, Sean and five teammates showed up to hear more about AIA at Marian! I walked through how to have a personal relationship with God. We had a rich conversation about what it means to follow Jesus. Another freshman, Hunter, recommitted his life to Jesus on the spot! We continue to meet Tuesdays at noon to discuss foundational truths of following Jesus and apply it to sport.

We daily take steps of faith toward a multi-ethnic movement of Christ-followers among college athletes across Indianapolis. It's a God-sized vision that requires God's Spirit working in and through us. As our partner in ministry, we are building this movement with you. Your sustaining prayers and support keep us moving forward on the front lines of this campus missionary work. For that, we are incredibly grateful! :)

Meet Sean

Sean Azcui is a sharp leader and people gatherer. Being on both the football and cycling team gives him access to different pockets of campus. Pray that Sean would grow in his relationship with Jesus and learn to trust God more deeply. Pray for Matt's relationship with Sean to grow and strengthen as they labor together for the gospel message to go forward on Marian's campus!
