Ministry While Pregnant

Although I'm not on campus every day, God has provided incredible conversations this year with female athletes! Hosting meals for students and doing admin behind the scenes is meaningful, but I LOVE sitting face to face with women. I always cherish showing them Biblical truth that connects with their heart and life.

Fall semester I met a freshman lacrosse player from California who had ZERO understanding of Christianity. She had so many questions about the Bible, and we had rich conversations in the student union. What a joy to be the first to help her explore the Bible!

Madison & Daria on the soccer team

This semester I'm meeting with Madison, a sophomore on the soccer team. Because of competitive sports she missed church growing up and feels embarrassed to ask questions because she "should know this stuff." As I walk her through Ephesians 2:8-9, Madison begins to understand the grace and truth of Jesus' work for her.

Recently we got lunch in the cafeteria. Her eyes opened wide, physically and spiritually, as we dug into 1 John 5:11-13. Her shoulders noticeably dropped and she said, "You mean I can be 100% secure in my relationship with God because of Jesus and not my performance?" EEEKKK!! I wish you could be with me during these sweet moments! :)

As I waddle around campus and students stare at my pregnant belly, I just chuckle to myself and smile. I love that the Lord is using me as a safe person for girls to ask honest questions, and ultimately encounter Jesus! Thank you for partnering with us! We are very thankful!

How to Pray

- Pray that God's Spirit would continue drawing students to Christ in ways that would be more than we could ask or imagine!
- Pray for us to have wisdom in leading and shepherding as we continue to move the ministry to a sharper focus on evangelism and discipleship
- Pray for an increase in open doors and favorable relationships among administration, coaches, and student-athletes.
