Recounting His Faithfulness

It's hard to believe another school year is drawing to a close; some weeks flew by! It's apparent that God's grace and your prayers kept us going. Here are some ways that God was working through this school year:

- Our expansion campus, University of Indianapolis, continues to steadily grow
- Discipleship groups studying Colossians this semester; students growing deeper in their faith
- The ethnic makeup of our involved students is slowly growing more diverse
- 10 students who came to winter retreat are involved and excited about the AIA movement
- 12 freshman athletes are in small groups going through 5 foundational lessons this spring
- 23 athletes went through "Equipped Disciple" training to learn how to multiply their faith
- 5 students signed up for Ultimate Training Camp this summer; trusting God for 5 more!
- Students are sharing their faith with teammates and friends on their own
- Using our home (2 miles from Butler's campus) to equip leaders and foster community
- Bringing the family to campus events and doing "life on life" with our students

We truly wouldn't be able to do this missionary work without your partnership! Thank you for continuing to "hold the rope" for us as we go after every athlete with the life-changing message of the gospel. It's a privilege to co-labor with you to raise up future leaders for God's Kingdom!

Summer Plans

May 19-25 we'll be at AIA headquarters in Xenia, Ohio to help lead The Ultimate Training Camp. After camp, we're sticking around to see ministry partners and friends. If you're in SE Ohio, hopefully we'll see you soon!

In June and July we'll be back in Indy leading the summer AIA group. We've found that many of our student-athletes are MORE available during the summer. Pray for growth in spiritual maturity as we disciple them!

Matt will be taking two classes at a local seminary here in Indianapolis. He's starting to slowly work on a masters degree, so pray for wisdom and energy as he studies!
