Discipleship is A Process

As we begin a new semester, our approach to ministry remains the same. We will continue to focus on investing in students who are faithful, available, and teachable. We will continue to lead small groups that 1. study and apply God's word, 2. build authentic community around the gospel, and 3. bear each other's burdens. We will continue to develop Christ-centered disciples who will multiply their faith into others.

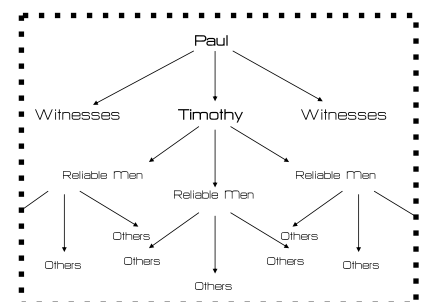

One of Jenny's disciples, Katie, is a junior on the Butler women's soccer team. She's been leading a small group for the team over the past 1.5 years. Katie is starting to understand that discipleship is a process which takes time. It can be emotionally trying, but ultimately worth it. A few younger girls on the team have started to follow her spiritual leadership and are growing in their walks with Jesus. Jenny continues to pass on wisdom and tangible insights for Katie as she grows in her leadership. We're grateful for the opportunity to lead and disciple students like Katie who are patiently serving the Lord and loving their teammates.

We're also grateful for Jacelyn, a sophomore on the Marian soccer team who is just starting her journey of leading teammates spiritually. Jacelyn recently asked Katie for insight into how she can lead and disciple her teammates. They continue to talk and pray for one another. Please pray with us that the hearts of women on both teams would be open and receptive to the gospel. Also, pray for Katie, Jacelyn, and many other student-athletes who are leading small groups to have enduring passion for the gospel to go forth.

Spiritual Multiplication

In 2 Timothy 2:2, Paul writes to his disciple Timothy, "And the things you have heard me say in the presence of many witnesses entrust to reliable men who will also be qualified to teach others." We believe that multiplying our faith through discipleship is the key to seeing a true spiritual movement happen among college athletes across Indianapolis. Thank you for supporting and praying with us that hearts are changed and God is glorified!
